About the Vijayapura

The city was established in the 10th -11th centuries by the Kalyani Chalkyas and was Known as Vijayapura (City of Victory). The city was passed to Yadavas after Chalukya's demise .The city came under the Influence of the Khilji Sultanate in Delhi by the late 13th Century. In 1347, the area was conquered by the Balmani Sultanate of Gulbarga .By This time ,the city was being referred as Vijayapura or Bijapur or Vijayapura Karnataka. Ironically the name Beejpur literally Means replete with seeds in Sanskrit, Meaning Pomegranate.

About the ICSSR

The Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi was set up by the Government of India in 1969 as an autonomous organization in order to review, promote, encourage, assist and coordinate social science research in the country. ICSSR advises the Government of India on all matters pertaining to social science research as a measure to promote its utilization.

About the University

Karnataka State Akkamahadevi Women's University (formerly known as Karnataka State Women's University) established in 2003 in the city of Vijayapura (Formerly Bijapur), is the only Women's University in Karnataka dedicated exclusively for Women's Education. About the Capacity Building Programme (CBP)

India being the largest economy in higher educational system, its quality does not match the global standards and there is increased scope and urgency for improving the quality of our country's educational institutions. The research scenario in educational institutions in a country like India portrays a chequered picture. While some leading world class institutions like the IITs and the IIMs are achieving what was well planned in their objectives, others portray a dismal picture in terms of quality and quantity of research. The Indian system of higher education has been facing a number of challenges. Significant requirements for a quality research includes: Subject Acquaintance, Statistical Knowledge, Research Methodology and Technology (Software). In Indian context, it has been observed that researchers are having excellent subject knowledge but they face challenges in the area of scientific knowledge and training in Research Methodology and technological applications, which has been considered as one of the chief barrier in producing quality researchers. Many of our researchers and guides are themselves not found competent understanding enough to carry out sound empirical work due to lack of advanced statistical understanding. Hence, it requires major investment in this regard so as to make human resources productive and fruitful, by coupling the older Universal disciplines of Humanities, Social Sciences, Natural Sciences, and Commerce with their applications in innovative era with adequate field base experience, for enhancing knowledge with skills and developing appropriate outlook.

Objectives of CBP

Research methodology is a structured framework of conducting research in order to address various issues to solve problems in a scientific manner. For a high quality research, one requires to collect, interpret and logically document the information. Selection of an appropriate tool for data analysis and its meaningful interpretation will be a difficult task without proper understanding of theoretical concepts of research methodology and analytical tools. Quantitative and qualitative data analysis using contemporary statistical techniques for conducting research for better decision making is necessary. Knowledge of applied research tools and methodology along with the use of software helps in integrating research and practice. Good publications require more in-depth research with sound analysis of data. SPSS hands-on training certainly enhances the possibility of greater research and publication skills of all those engaged in data analysis and research activities. So, the proposed 12 Days CBP will provide a platform to train the participants on innovative business and industry research methods, data analysis using SPSS and academic writing skills through interactive and practical sessions.

Enrichment is the action of improving or enhancing the quality or value. Based on this concept, the programme has been designed for developing the new generation teachers in the discipline of Commerce, Management, Psychology, Sociology,

Economics, Agriculture, Education, Geography and other branches of Social Science. The programme is aimed at improving the research orientation of Newly appointed various University or Aided Institutions faculty members by providing an interactive platform to enhance the understanding of advanced statistical techniques as well as providing hands-on training for analyzing data using alternative software for statistical analysis. The course is based on the theoretical lectures and practical exercise on advanced contemporary software. This programme will follow problem based approach, i.e., participants will be made familiar with the theory first and then they will be using contemporary software using examples, so that they may gain confidence and expertise in conducting researches in their respective subject domains.

Significance of the Course

This Two week Research Methodology Course in Social Science Research is an integral part of the growth and expansion of social sciences. Its importance is enhanced much more in the modern, globalized society where development has attained additional dimensions. Social Science Research faces the challenge to thoroughly equip itself to meet the ever growing needs of the society that is transforming at a rapid pace. Often, demarcations (into rural, urban and cast, gender etc) are blurred by the advancement in technology and changing socio-economic scenario. Societal problems are assuming wide-ranging complexities. Under these circumstances, it is necessary to approach research from a preliminary and systematic understanding of the methods in social science research as an essential part of social science research and over a period of time, the methods have expanded enormously with its scope and application.

The key idea behind the program is to enrich the capability of conducting quality research among Newly Recruited Young Social Science Faculty members of social sciences and further bring out research output into publishable material of high quality in the form of journal articles or books.

Target Group:

Newly Appointed Assistant Professor in Social Science Disciplines who are working in different State/Central/Decmed Universities, Departments, Affiliated Colleges and Research Institutions. Ten participants from local city, 10 participants from within Karnataka State and 10 participants from out of the State, total of thirty members would be selected for the Programme. The present training programme aims to develop research capabilities among young faculty to turn completed researchers in turn making them capable to publish quality research material in the form of articles/books by providing a general understanding of the nature and relevance of the research methods. It introduces participants to the essential principles, techniques and processes of qualitative and quantitative research. In doing so, it deals with various theoretical and methodological issues involved in such inquiry as well as the strategies and techniques such as research design, methods of qualitative data collection, coding and analysis involved in empirical research.

ABOUT ICSSR:

Indian Council of Social Science research (ICSSR) was established in the year of 1969 by the Government of India to promote research in Social Sciences in the country. The Council undertakes the review and works for the progress of social science research and gives advice to its users; Sponsors social science research programmes and projects and administer grants to institutions and individuals for research in social sciences Co-ordinates research activities and encourages programmes for interdisciplinary research Organizers, sponsors, and finances seminars workshops and study groups, develops and supports centers for documentation services and supply of data and Undertakes publication and assists publication of journals and books in social sciences.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM:

The two weeks CAPACITY BUILDING PROGRAMME FOR SOCIAL SCIENCES FACULTY ON "RESEARCH METHODOLOGY & DATA ANALYSIS" to be held from 16th Aug to 30th August 2018 at Akkamahadevi Women's University, Vijayapura is designed to impart knowledge on Research Methodology in the context of qualitative and quantitative research along-with training in advanced statistical packages (including SPSS/STATA, SEM) across the various fields of Social Sciences/ Humanities.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAM:

The program predominantly follows the Research Methodology Syllabus designed by the ICSSR which include extensive understanding of both qualitative and quantitative methods. However, it also aims at incorporating certain important features in order to cater to the growing needs of the young research scholars. Some of those features are

- Qualitative and Quantitative research, epistemology, the science of research.
- Developing understanding to write for publishing papers in refereed journals and checking for plagiarism.
- Data Processing and analysis – techniques – how to read the data and how to interpret the data etc.
- To provide conceptual knowledge of various univariate and multivariate techniques, and demonstrate the applications of the above mentioned techniques, through hands-on sessions with valid data sets, using

SPSS SOFTWARE.

- To introduce the basic concepts related to SEM.
- To illustrate the basic applications of SEM using the AMOS software using hands on lab sessions with valid data sets.

This program is a capacity building programme especially for research scholars belonging to the marginalized sections. We therefore, propose to provide 70% of the seats for the applicants belonging to the SC/ST/Muslim categories and women.

WHO CAN PARTICIPATE?

About Vijayapura

The city was established in the 10th or 11th Centuries by the Kalyani Chalukya and was known as Vijayapura (City of Victory). The city was passed to Yadavas after Chalukya's demise. Bijapur came under Muslim influence, first under Allaudin Khalji, the Sultan of Delhi, towards the end of the 13th century, and then under the Bahamani kings of Bidar in 1347. After the split of the Bahmani Sultanate, the Bijapur Sultanate ruled from the city. Relics of the Sultanates' rule can be found in the city, including the Bijapur Fort, Bara Kaman, Jama Masjid, and Gol Gumbaz. Bijapur city is well known for its historical monuments of architectural importance built during the rule of the Adil Shahi dynasty.

About ICSSR

About the Capacity Development Programme

This National Education Policy 2020 is the first education policy of the 21st century and aims to address the many growing developmental aspirations of our country. This Policy proposes the revision and revamping of all aspects of the education structure, including its regulation and governance, to create a new system that is aligned with the aspirations & goals of 21st century education. NEP aims for India to have an education system by 2040 that is second to none, with equitable access to the highest-quality education for all learners regardless of social or economic background and seeks to "ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all" by 2030."

The Fourth Industrial Revolution of automation, digital platforms and other innovations are changing the fundamental nature of work and the disruptive changes on the employment landscape, business models and more importantly on Commerce and Management Education. In this context, the Commerce and Management Education has to aim at developing a student's intellectual ability, executive personality and entrepreneurial and managerial skills through an appropriate blend of business and multidisciplinary education. In addition, it needs to provide students with Commerce and Management Education of globally recognized best practices with flexibility of their adaptation to indigenous entrepreneurial and societal context. The future Commerce and Management professionals will have to align their skill set in the context of Fourth Industrial Revolution. Therefore, High-Quality Commerce and Management Education is essential in India. Use of technology is one of the influential ways to enhance the students' ability to meet the ever changing necessities of the business houses and society.
